

2008 NBLL Board of Directors Election

Per the NBLL Constitution, the Board of Directors shall be comprised of no less than 6, nor more than 13 members. Each year, all positions are open for reelection; directors are elected to one-year terms. Directors are not elected to specific offices, but rather as general Board members. Once elected by the general membership, the new directors will meet to elect officers.

A candidate must receive 51% of the total votes cast in order to be elected. In the event that too few candidates are elected, those elected will be responsible for appointing additional directors to fill vacancies as needed.
